The Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference

The Mideastern Athletic Conference, a NCAA Division One Conference, is beginning its 38th year of operation heading into the 2007-2008 academic school year. Located in downtown Virginia Beach, VA, the MEAC is made up of 12 outstanding, historically black institutions across the Atlantic coastline: Bethune-Cookman College, Coppin State University, Delaware State University, Florida A&M University, Hampton University, Howard University, University of Maryland-Eastern Shore, Morgan State University, Norfolk State University, North Carolina A&T State University, South Carolina State University and Winston-Salem State.

The MEAC has enjoyed great success over the years in athletics. Currently, the league has automatic qualifying bids for NCAA postseason play in baseball (since 1994), men's (1981) and women's basketball (1982), I-AA football (1996), softball (since 1995), men's and women's tennis (since 1998), and volleyball (since 1994).

In Basketball, the MEAC had two teams in the ESPN Sportcenter Top 10 All-time upsets in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament with Coppin State, who defeated the second seed South Carolina as a 15th seed in 1997; and Hampton, who defeated #2 Iowa State as a 15th seed in 2001. Florida A&M captured another win for the MEAC in the NCAA Basketball Tournament, defeating Lehigh in NCAA Play-In Game in 2004.

In Football, the MEAC has become one of the dominant forces in Division I-AA. In the 2003 season the MEAC placed two teams in the I-AA Playoffs, marking the fourth time the leagues had two teams in the playoffs (1997, 1998, 1999, 2003). MEAC teams reached the semifinals twice (1981, 1999) and the quarterfinals four times in the I-AA playoffs. Florida A&M won the inaugural I-AA championship in 1978, one year prior to joining the MEAC. In Volleyball, Florida A&M became the first MEAC school to win a match in the NCAA Tournament, with a win over Winthrop in the first round of the 2003 Tournament.

History

In 1969, a group of innovators long associated with intercollegiate athletics met in Durham, NC to discuss the feasibility of organizing a new conference based along the Atlantic coastline. A number of representatives from different institutions joined the steering committee in a two-day discussion about the new conference. Seven of these institutions agreed to become the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference: Delaware State College, Howard University, University of Maryland-Eastern Shore, Morgan State University, North Carolina A&T State University, North Carolina Central University and South Carolina State University. The MEAC headquarters remained in Durham, NC until 1981, moving to Greensboro on March 26, 1982. In 2006, the conference office moved to Virginia Beach, VA.

The league was confirmed in 1970, kicking off its first season of competition in Football in 1971. In 1978, the MEAC selected its first full-time commissioner, Kenneth A. Free and the following year, expanded to nine schools with the admissions of two Florida schools: Bethune-Cookman College and Florida A&M University. The MEAC operated with nine schools until 1985 when Coppin State College was admitted. The final expansion occurred in the 90's with the inclusion of Hampton University in 1995 and Norfolk State University in 1997.

On June 8, 1980, the MEAC was classified Division One by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the following month, received an automatic berth in the NCAA Division I Basketball Championship.

is a feeling that you can only understand through experience. It is a family atmosphere and a sense of belonging that few other universities can match. Aggie Pride is the teachers who spend long hours with students helping them to individually succeed to be future NASA employees, NASCAR drivers, BET hosts and Fortune 500 company executives.

Aggie Pride

is the sense of community among all N.C. A&T students, faculty and staff. This nurturing environment helps to bridge the gap between family life and newfound independence. The feeling of belonging to something special transcends all barriers and connects a community of Aggies from all cultures, backgrounds and experiences.
